Dear [redacted],

Congratulations! It is our great pleasure to offer you admission to UCLA for the Fall Quarter 2024. You have been admitted to the UCLA College of Letters and Science with Biology as your academic major.

You were selected from the largest college applicant pool in the nation—over 146,000 students applied to UCLA. Your talents and academic accomplishments are exceptional, and we know that you will thrive here. With over 128 majors and 90+ minors, the academic breadth and research opportunities available to you as a student are second to none. You will also receive personal attention from instructors: nearly two out of three undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students. Our campus community offers over 1,000 clubs and organizations which will give you opportunities to engage and explore with your fellow Bruins.

UCLA prepares you to step into your future through our unique combination of cutting-edge academic programs, a diverse and engaging residential experience, support for post-graduate and career exploration, and a college town located in Los Angeles, one of the most innovative and diverse cities in the world. Our world-class faculty, supportive staff, and incredible students create an undergraduate experience that we believe is second to none.

Dear [redacted],

Congratulations... all of the admissions committees, it is my honor and privilege to share with you that you have been admitted to the Stern School of Business at New York University and the NYU class of 2027.

In 1831, NYU was founded by Albert Gallatin, Treasury Secretary to U.S. Presidents Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, to do something that had never been done before in higher education—enable a university that was open to students of all backgrounds, based on their talent and merit alone. To date, Gallatin envisioned a university without walls. NYU has kept his idea, broadening its boundaries to become the largest independent research university in the United States, and one of the most influential institutions of higher learning in the world.

When you return to your college page, you will see a checklist of next steps for admitted students, including how to accept your offer of admission, and how to view your financial aid award. If you applied to us, we must accept your offer of admission by March 1, 2023.

Once you confirm your enrollment, it is your ethical obligation as an Early Decision applicant to withdraw any applications you may have submitted to other colleges or universities.

Please know that your offer of admission is contingent upon successful completion of your existing academic program at a performance level comparable to the one presented to your application. Visit the official student section of our website to review our expectations for admitted students.

Visit, you should be extremely proud of your accomplishments, and encourage you to celebrate with our family and friends who have supported you thus far in your incredible journey. We look forward to welcoming you to the NYU community, and invite you to connect with new classmates on the NYU class of 2027 Facebook page.

Sincerely,

 Jonathan B. Williams
 Associate Vice President, Undergraduate Admissions

WELCOME TO THE CLASS OF 2028
 YOU'RE ADMITTED!

Dear [redacted],

Congratulations! You have been admitted to Johns Hopkins University—a place where bright minds come together to create knowledge and the world.

We're excited to welcome you to our community of scholars. We recognize your readiness to engage with new perspectives, contribute to some of the most important conversations of our time, and thrive within our community that is fueled by the fearless pursuit of knowledge.

"Our simple aim is to make scholars, strong, bright, useful, and true."

The words of Daniel Coit Gilman, the first president of the university, continue to define the Hopkins community as one that works together to make real and meaningful impact on causes that matter.

Your time at Hopkins will be shaped by the connections you make and relationships you build. As a Blue Jay you will explore what you care about most, meet lifelong friends, collaborate with peers and mentors, and be part of a community that's so glad you're here. At Hopkins you will have the flexibility and resources to turn your biggest questions into answers and the network of the leading research university to support you along each step of your journey.

Dear [redacted],

Congratulations! I am pleased to offer you admission to the University of Southern California as part of the entering class of fall 2023. This offer is being extended to you as a result of your outstanding achievements, both in and out of the classroom. During a time when so much of life has been disrupted, you continued to devote late nights and weekends to study and beyond what was expected of you.

USC faculty, world-renowned researchers at the forefront of the creation of knowledge, are especially eager for you to join us. They look forward to working with remarkable young people who will bring intellect, curiosity and persistence to the university community. We believe you are such a person.

USC is one of the most dynamic universities in the world because students like you bring special qualities and a range of interests. By choosing USC, you will become an important part of a student body of enormous talent, depth and diversity. You will work with scholars of all disciplines, from the sciences to the visual and performing arts, from the humanities to the social sciences and various professional disciplines. You will learn from others, we will learn from you, and you will grow to become a leader for the future.

Beyond the tall trees of our beautiful campus is downtown Los Angeles, the heart of the vibrant metropolis you will call home during your undergraduate career. Our city is your living laboratory, providing opportunities for learning in formal and informal ways, in areas such as global business, community service, and national politics. You can find just about anything here: music, art, theatre, a variety of cultures, beautiful beaches, snow-capped mountains, even expansive reserves of natural wonder.

A USC education will provide you with a base of knowledge that is both broad and deep. This, combined with your mastery of one, two or even three academic fields, will equip you to make a difference in a world characterized by constant change. We believe that together we will find solutions to the problems of tomorrow, and we are excited to share this journey with you.

Welcome to the Trojan Family!

Sincerely,

 Dale Leaman
